A Ministry's Guide to Church Transportation

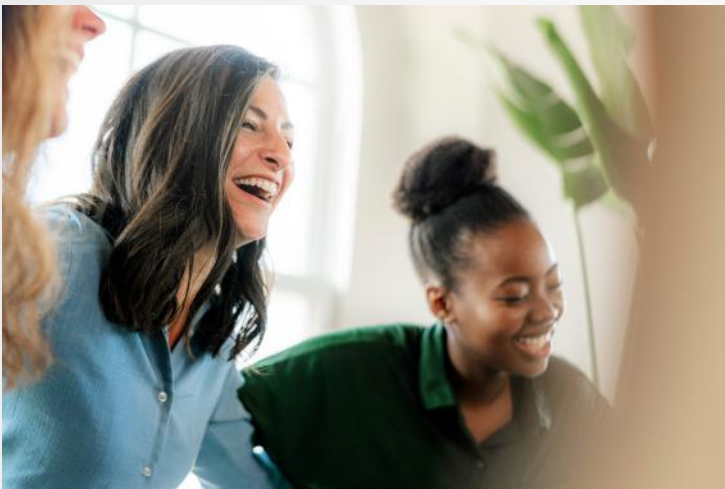

Bringing People Together, One Ride at a Time.

A Better Way to Travel Together

Church ministry is about connection—connecting people to faith, fellowship, and service. That often means getting your members from place to place safely, comfortably, and reliably.

That's where we come in.

ChurchBus.com is a division of Midwest Transit Equipment, one of the nation's leading bus dealerships. We specialize in helping churches and ministries find transportation solutions that fit their mission and their budget.

Frequently Asked Questions

Do we need a Commercial Driver's License (CDL)?

In most states, no CDL is required if the vehicle has 15 or fewer seats (including the driver) and weighs under 26,000 lbs.

Do you offer custom graphics or wraps for our church bus?

Yes! We offer custom graphic packages to help your church bus stand out and reflect your ministry's identity. From simple logos and lettering to full vinyl wraps, our team can handle and install graphics that showcase your church's name, message, or branding. It's a great way to make your vehicle recognizable in the community and promote your mission wherever you go.

Can we get help with financing?

Yes. We work with financing partners that offer both leasing and purchase options, with terms up to 7 years.

Where can we get warranty or service work done?

Chassis repairs can be performed at any manufacturer-authorized dealer nationwide. For other issues, our team will connect you with a local specialist through our warranty support line.

Do we need a special bus for school use?

Yes. Schools transporting students to and from home must use a "school bus constructed" vehicle. However, Multi-Function School Activity Buses (MFSABs) can be used for after-school trips, events, and activities.

What Churches Are Saying

"Though we could buy buses locally, the no-pressure sales, quality vehicles, and smooth acquisition process keep us going back to ChurchBus.com."

— First Baptist Carrollton, Texas

"We've purchased and leased multiple vehicles from ChurchBus. Their team is professional, honest, and easy to work with—and their pricing is very competitive."

— First Baptist Church, Cookeville, Tennessee
